

Jordan Gruchala

573-559-8363 / jmgruchala@gmail.com / www.linkedin.com/in/jordan-gruchala

---

International affairs Graduate student. Possess skills and experience in data wrangling, data visualization, and web scraping. Is proficient in R and RStudio, specifically tidyverse. Also skilled in Microsoft Excel and STATA. Looking to apply my skills and experience into a role as a data analyst.

Education

---

American University, School of International Service

Washington, D.C.

Master of Arts in International Affairs

May 2026

- United States Foreign Policy and National Security

Relevant Experience:

- Conducted a research project on landmines and their application to theories of arms control; used STATA to create linear regression models and conduct data visualization.
- Gained experience in R statistical programming; RStudio skills include data importation, data visualization, data tidying, web scraping, programming, and Quarto; conducted research projects using tidyverse and ggplot2.

Georgia College and State University

Milledgeville, GA

Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and History

May 2023

- GPA: 3.97/4.0
- Graduated summa cum laude

Relevant Experience:

- Gained knowledge and statistical training in concepts such as linear regression, normal distribution, and statistical significance
- Conducted a research project using SPSS; used linear regression and basic statistics to conduct analysis.
- Gained experience and knowledge in synthesizing research; completed several research projects by synthesizing academic research.

Professional Experience

---

The Borgen Project

Remote

Political Affairs Intern

December 2023-February 2024

12 hours/week

- Conducted foreign policy research and analysis.
- Advocated and pressured Congress to pass legislation that decreases world poverty.
- Contacted my representatives, mobilized my community, and prepared for lobbying meetings.

Transatlantic Policy Center, American University

Washington, DC

Managing Editor

February 2025-December 2025

7 hours/week

- Review and edit submissions for the student blog.
- Develop robust processes for the submission and vetting of articles
- Disseminate information about the blog